

Opportunities for Young U.S. Citizens

INTERNSHIPS AT THE INTERNATIONAL ATOMIC ENERGY AGENCY (IAEA)

Working at the IAEA

IAEA Headquarters, Vienna, Austria.

The IAEA is the world's center for cooperation in the nuclear field. It was created as the "Atoms for Peace" organization in 1957 within the United Nations family. The Agency works with its Member States and multiple partners worldwide to promote the safe, secure and peaceful use of nuclear technology. Working at the IAEA offers the opportunity to engage current, meaningful issues of global peace, security and development while working in a stimulating multicultural workplace. As the largest contributor to IAEA programs, the U.S. is committed to encouraging well-qualified young Americans to take advantage of professional opportunities at the IAEA.

The Internship Program

The IAEA accepts a limited number of interns each year at its headquarters in Vienna, Austria. The program:

- provides interns with the opportunity to gain practical work experience in line with their studies;
- exposes interns to the work of the IAEA and the United Nations as a whole;
- benefits the IAEA through the assistance of qualified students and graduates specialized in various fields.

Duration: Normally from three months to one year, however, a minimum of one month may also be accepted.

Stipend: IAEA internships are not paid. However, applicants may request financial assistance if necessary, which is available at the discretion of the hiring division at the rate of 1000 euros/month.

Eligibility

Age: Applicants must be at least 18 years old.

Education: Must have completed at least two years of full-time study at the university level towards the completion of the first degree. May apply for up to two years after the completion of a bachelor's, master's or doctoral degree.

Language skills: Fluency in English is essential. Knowledge of other official Agency languages (Arabic, Chinese, French, Russian, Spanish) is an asset.

Field of study: Relevant disciplines in the natural sciences, social sciences/humanities, engineering, information technology and administrative/management fields are listed at: <http://www.iaea.org/About/Jobs/eligdegrees.html>.
